Leadership Seminars for Southeast Michigan Middle School Educators

Come join a network of middle schools working to become Professional Learning Communities.

What...

The Center for Excellence in Education at Central Michigan University is offering a series of six Seminars for Middle School Leadership Teams. Each of the six seminars will be facilitated by nationally recognized educational experts and will engage participants in multiple strategies and structured interaction.

When...

Thursdays:

- October 8, 2009
- November 4, 2009
- December 10, 2009
- January 14, 2010
- March 11, 2010
- April 22, 2010

Seminars begin with a continental breakfast at 8:30 and conclude by 3 p.m.

 Wednesday

Why...

If your middle school is searching for support to.....

- Acquire skills necessary to function as a Professional Learning Community
- Find opportunities to network with other middle school educators to focus on the Middle School Concept, Academic Excellence, Developmental Responsiveness, and Social Equity
- Create shared leadership to improve student outcomes
- Embed instructional strategies that engage all young adolescents in higher level thinking
- Meet the needs of special education and at-risk students in inclusionary classrooms with differentiated instruction.....come to the seminars!!

How...

Each seminar will include modeling and practicing the use of successful meeting strategies and instructional practices to use with students. Participants are fully engaged in the learning process... sessions are lively, fun, and practical for today's middle school educators. All seminars include continental breakfasts, lunches, and materials.

Where...

Washtenaw ISD, 1819 S Wagner Rd,
Ann Arbor, 48106

Who...

Each Middle School is invited to bring five individuals including a building administrator and teacher leaders to form a Leadership Team. Schools may bring a team of more than five participants at an additional cost.

Facilitators for the sessions include: Carolyn McKanders, Pat Benson, Polly Matyorauta, and Nic Cooper.
